Finding Affordable Health Care in Virginia

Resources to help you and your family stay healthy

Virginia Department of Social Services

"I'm not eligible for Medicare, Medicaid or FAMIS, but I still need help. What now?"

Access to affordable health care is an important building block for a strong, healthy family. People who are not eligible for Medicaid, Medicare or FAMIS may be eligible for assistance in the form of tax credits to help them afford private health insurance. Other programs, such as free or reduced-cost health care and prescription drug assistance may be offered in their own communities.

The organizations listed in this brochure can provide help with access to medical care and prescription drug services, even if you do not qualify for Medicaid, Medicare or FAMIS.

HealthCare.gov is the federal government's official website for Health Insurance Marketplace (HIM). This site provides information on finding a private health insurance plan and applying for assistance to help make it affordable.
